YESTERDAY a dog belonging to Mr. Adams, of the Island, bit a neighbor's child badly. The animal was ordered to be killed by the police.

HARRY McKOWN's horse ran off with his wagon yesterday, and the wagon was upset on Fourteenth street. No very serious damage resulted.

JOHN GIPPIN, of Bridgeport, who is charged with embezzling $104 from Ross T. Chew, of Wheeling, was arrested in Chicago and brought to Bridgeport yesterday.

JOHN POWERS was arrested by Officer Walker last night for disorderly conduct, and Judy Mack was run in by Officer Michaels for disorderly conduct and resisting.

J. G. DENT & Co., the Bridgeport druggists, have settled with the insurance companies for $8,000, the firm retaining so much of the damaged stock as is worth saving.

THE commencement of the Seguin collegiate institute will take place at the Opera House this evening. This is about the last commencement of the season in this locality.

Glendale Miners' Strike Ended.

THE coal miners' strike, which has been on for the past week at the Glendale Coal Works, was ended yesterday. The miners will return to work on the original agreement, which is the Ohio scale. Neither side gained anything by the strike, but all lost a week's time.

About eighty men were involved. A number went in to work yesterday. All will likely go in to-day. The company posted up a notice, which stated that all miners who wanted to return to work must apply individually. The Baltimore & Ohio and Ohio River railroad engines take coal at this point.

His Wheel Not Fast Enough.

SOME time ago John Bradley and wife, living over the river, ran up a number of bills for household goods and other things, including two bicycles, one of which was brought from Jason Stamp, of this city. They shipped all their goods and then mounted their wheel and sped westward. Mr. Stamp put his interests in the hands of Chief Bennett, who telegraphed to points out in Ohio, and yesterday he received a telegram from Springfield, Ohio, saying Bradley was under arrest there and the wheel in the possession of the officers.

THE PRICES OF MEAT.

The Butchers' Association Voluntarily Reduces Them.

AN INTERESTING MEETING IT WAS

At Which this and Other Important Action was Taken—It was not all Meant for the Public Ear, but Somebody Told Tales out of School—The New Schedule.

Wheeling butchers have reduced the price of meat. Whether the action of the city council in passing the "cheap meat" ordinance, allowing farmers to compete on even terms with the butchers, had anything to do with this is disputed, but it looks like a strong coincidence that the action of the butchers came so soon after that of council. The butchers say prices were not too high for reasonable profit, but meat had become a luxury, and people economized by buying less of it or taking cheaper cuts. It is said the business had been very plainly affected by this means, and the butchers concluded it would be better to sell more meat at a loss profit. This is the explanation given an INTELLIGENCER man by one of them, at least.

It was a very interesting meeting at which the retail butchers' protective association took this action. Part of the transactions were intended to be strictly private, but somebody told it all.

The price of the choicest cuts of beef, porterhouse and loin steaks, was reduced from 18 cents to 15. Round steak was cut from 15 to 12½ cents a pound, and chuck steak from 12½ cents to three pounds for a quarter. Boiling pieces, heretofore 10 cents a pound, will hereafter be six to eight cents, and the usual run of meats that sold for 10 and 12½ cents will be three pounds for a quarter.

The change goes into effect July 1. At the meeting complaint was made that three butchers were selling meat at less than the association's fixed prices, and these three were fined $3 each.

It was decided also to boycott all butchers who sold dressed beef to grocers to be retailed, this including Chicago, Cleveland and Wheeling concerns alike. The offenders were given until the first of next month to reform.

The butchers will give their annual picnic on the State Fair grounds on August 8.

It Was a Good Rain.

Yesterday morning early a force of men was put to work by the board of public works cleaning up the mud and debris washed on the streets by the heavy rain of Wednesday night. Several score cartloads of stuff was removed. The rainfall Wednesday night was .93 of an inch, and in the month of June so far it has aggregated but 2.03. Last year the June rainfall was but 1.05 in all.
